

PESANTEZ AND SEGOVIA FINE WINES PRESENTS:

VEGA SICILIA

In Spain Vega Sicilia is considered a national treasure, which makes one of the World's most prestigious wines: Vega Sicilia Unico.

The wines of Vega Sicilia are legendary, almost mythical and have international awards dating back to 1827 to illustrate the continuing quality of their wines and the respect bestowed on them by wine drinkers the World over for more than a century.

Vega Sicilia Unico is named in the same breath as the greatest wines from Bordeaux and Burgundy.

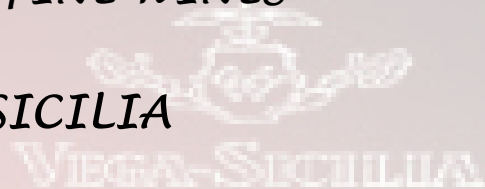

It is no wonder that Vega Sicilia's more eminent customers include Prince Charles of the British Royal family and it is also said that Vega Sicilia Unico was Sir Winston Churchill's favorite wine.

Vega Sicilia has also been served at the table of king Juan Carlos of Spain since he ascended to the throne. The Vega Sicilia estate can make even the most renowned French chateaux pale with envy.

Vega Sicilia also owns the Oremus Tokaj winery in Hungary .

It was on this site that the first Tokaj Aszu was produced in 1631 and Vega Sicilia continues the century old traditions of making the "Wine of kings; King of wines" as this wine was called by Louis XIV.

WINES FROM VEGA SICILIA

MANDOLAS 2006

These wines are produced in Hungary with ripe grapes that are not affected by botrytis cinerea. They are single variety wines expressing the particularities of the region's Furmint grape and the mineral hints of the originally volcanic soil. All this together with the advanced technologies and the use of Hungarian oak barrels help to make Mandolas one of the leading dry white wines in Hungary
